Please rate which WI Administrative Standards (below) were most evident within this observation.

Using the following scale:

Mastery	Proficient	Developing	Unsatisfactory
Candidate demonstrates actions and performance that involve teachers/staff, students, community, and other stakeholders, and consistently meets or exceeds performance expectations for those tasks related to the standard's criteria. Candidates performing at this level have demonstrated leadership in the criteria areas represented in the standard, both inside and outside of their school.	Candidate demonstrates consistent professional choices and actions in the performance of criteria-related tasks of the standard. Evidence shows integration of theory and best practice in criteria-related tasks and performance is at proficient level of above for all criteria.	Candidate demonstrates the knowledge and skills to influence teacher, staff, student and organizational achievement, but does not consistently apply them in demonstrated performance related to the criteria of the standard. Evidence indicates some integration of theory and best practice. While evidence is provided that some of the criteria are addressed at a proficient level, the evidence does not support the ability of the candidate to perform at a proficient level against the majority of the criteria.	Candidate does not convey understanding of the concepts underlying the standard And/ or does not exhibit choices and actions consistent with the standard; evidence provided is shallow, and does not directly demonstrate the candidate's ability to perform against the criteria described for the standard.

General Observations of Leadership Practice based on Event/Standards/Leadership Displayed:

Blake's observation was his facilitation of a advisory committee meeting. The group discussed building an advisory checklist. The purpose was to give advisors a better idea of what they should be covering throughout the year.

What area(s) of strength did you observe?

You gave input on your perception- example "staff need to pretend to be excited". Others agreed with your point of view which gave them a comfort level in expressing their opinions.

You also gave suggestions for things to add to the checklist to keep the conversation going.

You asked clarifying questions when needed- helped clarify for the group what the advisor expectation would be.

What if any recommendations would you make for development?

When discussing "cancelling advisory" – you did point out that it shouldn't be on a checklist- but could you have added it to notes for a future meeting. Some people have a "parking lot" list so that when other topics come up that need to be addressed, they are added to the parking lot for later discussion.

Interesting leadership decision when saying the checklist is "optional" – it should be called best practices. This made me wonder if there is an expectation for advising. In general advising is important to a child's journey- shouldn't they all get the same experience? Something to be think about when you lead a school – staff expectations.

Were you also taking notes- or is someone not facilitating assigned to note taking.
